I can learn from my mistakes.

We all make mistakes, and we can always be reminded that they are a learning opportunity.

I can do hard things.

Yes you can! Every student needs to be reminded of this every single day.

First attempt in learning.

You have to start somewhere.

Mistakes are expected & respected.

Remind your students that you want them to make mistakes. It's encouraged!

It's not failure because I haven't given up yet.

Keep reminding your students that every attempt is worthwhile.

I can't do it...YET.

The message of yet is one that resonates with so many of us. Spread this message far and wide!
